Notwithstanding an increase in film production of 5% and a marginal increase in average selling price of film by about 2% there has been a decrease in EBITDA of about 32% during the year under review resulting from :

- a) An uncompensated increase in the raw material cost of about 30% on a per unit basis.
- b) Fixed Costs were higher by about 19% on account of following reasons:
 - i. Increase in Power and Fuel Costs primarily on account of oil prices increase;

- ii. Increase in Stores and Spares consumption caused by replacement of high value machinery components;
- iii. Increase in Salaries and Wages;
- iv. Increase in Administrative Overheads on account of travelling, professional services and communication costs; and
- v. Loss on Sale of Fixed Assets.

Competitive Pricing Pressures were witnessed in the domestic market resulting from new capacity creation, particularly in the last quarter of the year under review.

Finance Charges were higher on account of prepayment charges for premature redemption of high cost non-convertible debentures.

Depreciation Costs were at the same level as last year.

There is an exceptional charge of Rs.51 Lacs on account of foreign exchange fluctuation on redemption of Preference Shares held by the Company in its subsidiary in Thailand.

The Profit before Tax (PBT) was lower by 51%. The incidence of tax is lower at 30% of PBT as against 32% in the last year on account of reduction in deferred tax liability caused by reduction in corporate tax rate. Profit after Tax was lower by 50%.

Management Discussion and Analysis

1. INTRODUCTION

Your Company is engaged in the manufacture and sale of Polyester (PET) Film with an installed capacity of 20,000 TPA at its Works located at Khatima, Distt. Udham Singh Nagar, Uttaranchal. In addition, it has an installed capacity of 20,000 TPA of PET Chips for captive consumption and 4800 TPA of Metallised Film at the same location.

Polyplex (Thailand) Public Company Limited (PTL), the Company's subsidiary operates two thin film lines with the first line having been commissioned in April 2003 and the second one in November 2003. During the year two chips plant were commissioned successfully - a batch process plant with a capacity of 7000 TPA in September 2004 and a continuous process plant with a capacity of 45500 TPA in February 2005. With this PTL is now self sufficient for PET chips for captive consumption.

Polyplex Europa Polyester Film Sanayi Ve Ticaret Anonim Sirketi (PE), PTL's wholly owned subsidiary is setting up a PET Film line with an annual capacity of 24000 TPA, a metalliser with a capacity of 4800 TPA and a captive co-generation power plant with a capacity of 4 MW. The film plant is expected to commence production in October 2005.

2. PRODUCT

PET film is a high performance film made from polyethylene terephthalate resin (generally known as Polyester Chips), which in turn is produced from dimethyl terephthalate (DMT)/polyethylene terephthalic acid (PTA) & mono-ethylene glycol (MEG).

The five main categories of PET film applications are as under:

- (a) Packaging: Commodity films and specialty film used primarily for flexible packaging.
- (b) Imaging: Printing films- layout base, masking film and printing plates, as well as reprographic, microfilms etc.

(c) Electrical: Wire and cable wrap, membrane switches, flexible printed circuits, capacitors and motor insulation.

(d) Magnetic media: Audio and video tape, as well as computer tape and floppy discs.

Another broad categorization made by the industry is Thin (including Magnetic media) and Thick films. Your Company operates in the thin film segment focusing on the Packaging, Industrial and Electrical (PIE) segments.

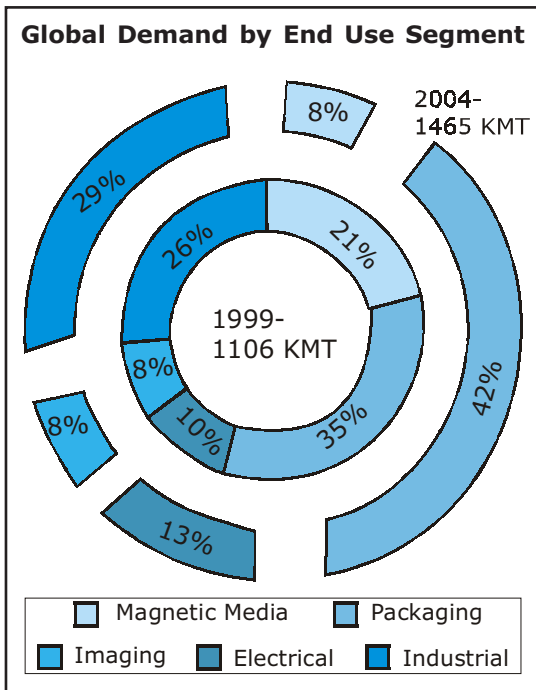

3. INDUSTRY SCENARIO

(a) Global

DEMAND

The worldwide merchant market of PET film in 2004 was estimate at 1.47 million tons, up from 1.10 million tons in 1999, which represents a CAGR of 5.79%. Of this market, about 80% of demand is estimated to be driven by thin films. The sector with highest demand for thin PET film is packaging, followed by industrial and electrical films respectively. Their combined demand accounted for 70% in 1999, rising to 85% in 2004, with a cumulative growth of 50% during 1999-2004. Electrical recorded the highest growth of 83%, packaging 64% and industrial 45%. The CAGR for these segments between 1999 and 2004 has been 9.79%.

Classified by region, demand for PET film was the highest in North America, West Europe and Japan, accounting for 30%, 20% and 20% of world consumption respectively in 1999. Later, consumption by 'Other Asian' countries leveled up to the extent over that by Western Europe and Japan. The region became the 2nd largest consumer of PET film in 2001 and the largest in 2004. In 2004, 'Other Asian' countries demand for PET film accounted for 30% of world demand, followed by America and Japan with 22% and 18% respectively.

SUPPLY

The global merchant capacity for PET film in 2004 was 1.84 million tons, up from 1.45 million tons in 1999, which represents a CAGR of 4.8%. Thin film capacity was estimated at 1.4 million tons in 2004, about 77% of the total. Since 1999, there has been a shift of production towards Asian markets (excluding Japan and Korea) whereas the capacity in all the other markets has remained largely unchanged.

Classified by region, 'Other Asia' had the highest capacity in 2004. Its portion compared to total capacity was 39.50%, followed by Korea and America with 16.14% and 16.10% respectively. During 1999-2004, Other Asia also was the region that had the highest growth rate of PET film production capacity with growth rate of 87% due to the setting up of new lines by existing and new manufacturers in India, China and other developing countries in Asia.

(ii) Industry Structure and Evolution

After a period of PET film shortage in the mid-90's, which led to high profitability for all producers worldwide, the industry saw a huge capacity build up resulting in a significant oversupply situation. Competitive pressure further aggravated by the East Asian currency crisis in mid-1997 led to a severe erosion of prices to unprecedented levels and all producers of PET film went through an extremely difficult period between 1997 and 2000. Limited capacity creation, large-scale consolidation as also the rationalization of capacity by closure of uneconomic old lines by some players, helped restore a semblance of stability to the PET film markets worldwide towards the end of 2000.

With proliferation of technology and capacity, the emphasis has moved to evolving a competitive cost structure. This, along with increasing concerns on optimizing return on capital has led to consolidation among the World 'Majors' and has created businesses which are truly global in scope in terms of capacity, geographical reach and product offering.

Large capacity additions are planned/ under implementation in China as a result of which it is expected that the capacity there will go up from around 136,000 MT in 2003 towards 500,000 MT in 2007 which can result in supply-demand imbalance in the next two years, if the new entrants are successful in achieving good quality and operating levels.

There are currently three distinct classes of PET film manufacturers classified by size of production capacity:

- World majors with production capacity of over 100,000 tons per year (e.g. Dupont-Teijin, Mitsubishi, Toray and SKC)
- Mid-size players with production capacity between 50,000 -

100,000 tons per year (e.g. Kolon, Polyplex, Cifu and Jindal) and

- Small/local producers with production capacity of less than 50,000 tons per year

Demand for PET film for magnetic media application has been high in the past, prompting major producers to focus on this segment. Competition in the magnetic media segment is thus confined only to these majors based on their long and well established expertise and experience.

For other PET films including thin film, competition is seen among all groups of producers thanks to the consistently rising demand, especially for thin film which is used in packaging, industrial and electrical segments where healthy growth of demand is recorded. Thus small and mid sized producers (including Polyplex group) have expanded their capacity to cope with the increasing demand in these segments. This can lead to higher market share by some small and mid sized producers in various countries which have enhanced production capacity.

(iii) Current Scenario

The industry is currently witnessing high capacity utilization with operating rates in Thin film higher than Thick film. With capacity growing faster than incremental demand especially in Thin films, the capacity utilization in the industry is likely to come down in the next few years.

(iv) Trade Actions

International trade in PET film has been prone to trade actions particularly in Europe and U.S.A. where there are large imports. A chronological list of such actions and their current status is given hereunder:

| Year | Action | By | Against | Results |
|------|-------------------|--------|-------------------|--|
| 1988 | Dumping | EU | Korea | Terminated without any measures |
| 1990 | Dumping | EU | Korea | Terminated without any measures |
| 1991 | Dumping | USA | Korea & Japan | Duties imposed, but over years are now minimal for Korea and the order was revoked with respect to Japan in 1995 |
| 1995 | Dumping | EU | Korea | Terminated without any measures |
| 1998 | GSP Removal | USA | India | Preferential status removed and normal duty of 4.2% imposed |
| 1999 | Subsidy | EU | India | CV duties between 3-19% imposed |
| 2000 | Dumping | China | Korea | Duties between 13-46% imposed |
| 2000 | Dumping | India | Korea & Indonesia | Duties between 0.16-0.92 $/kg imposed |
| 2000 | Dumping | EU | India & Korea | Duties between 0-67% on Indians and 3-12% on Koreans imposed, Price Undertaking from Indian exporters accepted at margin elimination level |
| 2002 | Dumping & Subsidy | USA | India & Taiwan | Duties between 19-30% on Indians and 2-3% on Taiwanese imposed |
| 2002 | Subsidy | Brazil | India | No duties imposed due to lack of injury |
| 2003 | Dumping | Brazil | India | Case withdrawn |
| 2004 | GSP Removal | USA | Thailand | Removal of Preferential status- results in imposition of normal duty of 4.2% |

Details on the impact of these developments on the Company's working are given later in this Report.

However, an analysis of the history of the various cases till date shows that while initial duty rates may be high, exporters tend to incorporate the appropriate monitoring mechanisms and modify sales practices, following which these duty rates are substantially reduced, if not eliminated altogether.

(v) Conclusion

The overall global market scenario can be summed up as under:

- Industry information indicates that several thin film lines in China are being set up, which if all operationalised could have a potentially destabilizing influence. However, how fast they are able to operationalize and achieve quality standards as per international norms needs to be seen.
- The cyclical nature of the industry would continue.
- Dominance of the three Japanese/U.S. Corporations who currently control 50% of the market is likely to continue though with a reducing share of the global capacity. However, decline in their traditional market segments as also relatively slower growth in their home markets has constrained their ability to improve viability of their PET film operations. Lowering manufacturing costs through acquisitions and joint ventures in the low cost Asian countries, rationalization of capacity and continued emphasis on technology intensive niche products could be an important strategic response.
- Most of the new capacity will be built in Asia because of lower capital and manufacturing costs and higher growth rates in this region.
- The transitioning of the industry to Asia will increase competitive pressure in the years to come.
- Demand is likely to continue to grow between 5% and 10% in the packaging, industrial and electrical segments.

- The current state of the demand-supply balance presents growth opportunities for companies which are:
 - Cost competitive and can match quality requirements in the packaging and industrial segments.
 - Focused with a good understanding of the markets.
 - Have a global outlook.
 - Have a good distribution reach.

(b) Domestic

The domestic market is currently estimated to be 130,000 MT mainly comprising of thin films (excluding magnetic media). It is estimated that the domestic market has grown at an annual rate of 15-20% in the last five years, largely on account of the increase in demand for thin films, with packaging being the dominant application and driver of growth.

In addition to the domestic demand, the Indian manufacturers have historically exported 50-60,000 MT of PET film annually. However, the exports to US and EU from India have declined in the recent past due to the growth in the domestic markets and the imposition of AD/CVD duties.

The total installed capacity at the end of 2004-05 is estimated at about 271,000 tonnes, which comprises 39,000 tonnes of thick film and 232,000 tonnes of thin film.

The commissioning of two lines with a capacity of 45,000 TPA in the past few months has impaired operating margins.

It is relevant to point out that Polyplex's current exposure to the Indian markets during the year under review is limited to 20% of its consolidated sales by volume. This will go down further after the commissioning of line in Turkey later this year.

4. POLYPLEX'S POSITION

Your Company has built its competitiveness over the years based on the following:

- Geographically diversified manufacturing locations enhancing servicing capabilities and accessing the benefits of regional trading blocs.
- Low project costs.
- High operating rates.
- Low overheads.
- Strong customer relationships.
- Focus on the high growth segments.
- Stable management team.

This is reflected in any comparison of the financials of the domestic PET film manufacturers.

* Some of the Companies operate in other business segments also, which have not been excluded due to lack of availability of segmental data for all the years.

Above Chart compares the Company's consolidated EBITDA margin with the four largest competitors in India. Your Company's margins have been consistently superior to its competitors in India.

The abridged Stand-alone Profit and Loss statement for the financial year ended March 31, 2005 is given below:

i) Production and Sales Volume (stand-alone operations)

During the year under review the Company was able to achieve a higher production volume at 20,075 MT an increase of 5% of the previous year. This can largely be attributed to the productivity initiatives like Total Productive Maintenance (TPM) and de-bottlenecking undertaken at the plant.

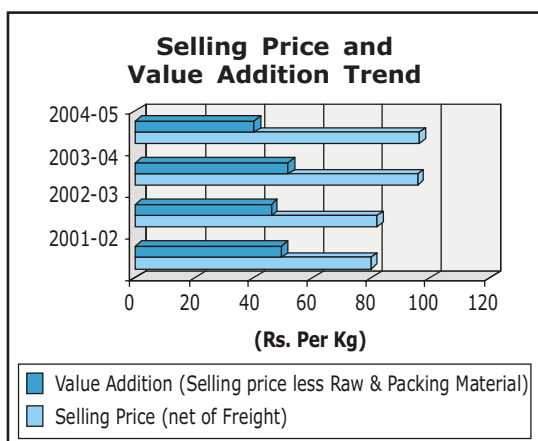

Sales volumes increased by 9% over the previous year continuing to be constrained by the lack of production capacity. Exports volumes constituted 36% of sales in volume terms.

ii) Selling Price and Value Addition (stand-alone operations)

Higher raw material prices and depressed domestic selling prices, especially in the last two quarters, resulted in lower value addition. Export volumes were increased to offset the loss due to steep fall in domestic selling prices.

iii) Profitability (stand-alone operations)

In view of lower value addition, especially in the last 2 quarters, operating profit (EBITDA) in 2004-05 was 32% lower than in 2003-04.

Fixed Costs were higher by about 19% on account of following reasons:

- a) Increase in Power and Fuel Costs primarily on account of oil prices increase;
- b) Increase in Stores and Spares consumption caused by replacement of high value machinery components;
- c) Increase in Salaries and Wages;
- d) Increase in Administrative Overheads on account of travelling, insurance and communication costs; and
- e) Loss on sale of fixed assets.

The interest costs were higher during the year by 10%. In addition, the charge on account of Exceptional item - loss on redemption of preference shares of Rs.51 Lacs, resulted in a drop in Profit before Tax by 50%.

The effective tax rate (excluding deferred tax) for the Company has increased to 39% due to disallowance of exceptional item and other expenses in the nature of capital loss. Accordingly, the distributable profit has decreased by 50%.

(b) Cash Flows

The Consolidated cash flows for the Company for the year 2004-05 are as follows:

| Particulars | 2004-05 Rs. in Lacs | 2003-04 Rs. in Lacs |

| Net Increase in Cash | 4272 | -669 |
| TOTAL (B) | 23652 | 15273 |

The strong operating cash flows have helped in minimizing the increase in the debt position for the Company.

PTL has in December 2004, made a successful Initial Public Offering of 240 million shares of 1 Baht each at a premium of 5.90 Baht per share aggregating to 1656 million Baht.

The consolidated cash flows also reflect the increase in Fixed assets at PTL consequent to the commencement of chips plant & also project outlay in PE, Turkey.

Scaling up of operations resulted in an increase in net current assets.

The stand-alone cash flows of the Company during the period under review were as under:

| Particulars | 2004-05 Rs. in Lacs | 2003-04 Rs. in Lacs |
|---|------------------------|------------------------|

During the year the Company's investment in the preference shares of PTL aggregating to Rs. 5940 Lacs was redeemed at par. The Company also invested Rs. 5553 Lacs in its subsidiaries - Polyplex (Asia) Pte. Ltd. (PAPL) & PTL.

On account of higher export mix Company's receivables increased at year end.

During the year, the Company retained its rating of PR1+ for its short term borrowings programme for Rs. 15 Crores and for long term paper it was upgraded from AA- to AA for value of Rs. 52 Crores by Credit Analysis & Research Ltd. (CARE).

Working Capital financing was optimised with the use of dollar denominated instruments.

(d) Key Financial Ratios

The key financial ratios on a consolidated basis for 2004-05 are given below and include the figures for PTL.

| Particulars | Year 2004-05 | Year 2003-04 |
|---|-----------------|-----------------|
| Debt - Equity Ratio * | 0.08 | 0.95 |
| Term Debt/EBITDA | 0.50 | 1.43 |
| Interest Cover (PBIT/Interest) | 7.78 | 7.39 |
| ROCE | 26.0% | 30.8% |
| RONW (Net Profit after Minority Interest/Average Net worth excluding Minority Interest) | 28.1% | 47.6% |

* Equity includes Minority interest and Deferred Tax Liability. Debt excludes cash and short term investments.

With the successful placement of IPO the net worth of the Company has increased substantially. As a result Return on Net Worth has come down. With the start up of operations in Turkey, the Return on Net Worth is likely to increase in the coming years.

Some of the key financial ratios of the standalone operations for the last 2 financial years are given below:

| Particulars | Year 2004-05 | Year 2003-04 |
|--------------------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Debt - Equity Ratio * | 0.68 | 0.54 |
| Term Debt/EBITDA | 1.78 | 1.08 |

| ROCE | 12.9% | 23.2% |
| RONW * | 9.8% | 21.1% |

* Net Worth includes Deferred Tax Liability. Debt excludes cash and short term investments.

Due to competitive pricing pressures there has been a reduction in the Operating Margin of Indian operations & accordingly the interest cover, ROCE & RONW have come down during the year.

6. HUMAN RESOURCES & SYSTEMS INITIATIVES

(a) Human Resources

Continuing with the efforts towards enhancement of the effectiveness and quality of the human capital this year the Company further consolidated its people related processes by implementing the recommendations of Hewitt Associates, who had conducted certain studies for the Company in 2002-03 and 2003-04. The Company moved to the profit centre based model and also introduced the Balance Scorecard Approach to set measurable organizational and individual performance goals. To improve individual and team performances, the performance management program was revamped. Group performance reviews were carried out and variable pay compensation was linked to the organizational performance.

To ascertain exact manning levels the Company also carried out manpower assessment studies at Thailand and Turkey with the help of ECS Limited, HR Consultants resulting in right sized cost effective operations. Furthermore, scientific recruitment tools are being used to ensure optimal recruitment processes.

Your Company also strengthened its management team by adding few more senior level officials and concrete efforts were made to attract and retain talent for its expansion programmes. Existing skilled manpower was redeployed to Turkey in a planned and supported manner. Additionally, the recently hired resources are being currently trained in our plants at Thailand and India. Thus when the operations start, there will be adequate resources to shoulder the responsibilities effectively.

Labor relations at India and Thailand continue to be cordial and constant efforts are underway to design proactive and contemporary HR policies catering to the ever changing needs of the people.

(b) Systems Initiatives

During 2002, the Company had implemented an Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) solution, SAP - R/3, in order to enhance transparency, improve the responsiveness to customers, manage processes more efficiently and streamline the production planning and controlling process. The benefits of this initiative have started yielding results. After having gained sufficient experience in India, it is proposed to extend the programme to Thailand as well as the proposed expansion in Europe so as to achieve a complete integration of activities.

TPM has continued to yield significant results in operational improvements, reduction of wastage and organization learning.

7. ANTI-DUMPING/ANTI-SUBSIDY ACTION IN THE EUROPEAN UNION AND U.S.A.

(a) European Union (EU)

1. The current normal import duty level on PET film imported into the EU countries from India is effectively 3.50%.

Based on complaints by European PET film producers the European Commission (EC) carried out investigations against Indian exporters and levied Countervailing duties towards the end of 1999. In the case of Polyplex, a Countervailing duty of 19.1% was imposed.

2. These countervailing duties are applicable for a period of 5 years. On December 10, 2004, the European Commission (EC) initiated an expiry review of the countervailing measures. The scope of expiry review is limited to the determination of the continuation of likelihood of the recurrence of subsidization. EC decided to do an investigation based on sampling. On January 27, 2005 four companies (viz. Ester Industries Limited, Flex Industries Limited, Garware Polyester Limited & Jindal Poly Films Limited) were selected for an examination of the continuation or recurrence of subsidization. The review is currently under progress.

3. In May 2000, the EC also initiated an Anti-dumping investigation against imports of PET films from India and South Korea and imposed Anti-dumping duties on Indian and Korean exporters. The anti-dumping duty applicable to Polyplex is 38.6%.
4. Subsequently, Price Undertakings were given by the Indian manufacturers, which seek to neutralize the dumping duties established for each exporter by stipulating minimum prices (at the Ex-factory levels) on a product-wise basis to be achieved by each exporter on its export sales to the EU. It must be added that the CVD/normal duties are still to be paid on exports to the EU.
5. The Company's request to extend the Price Undertaking to the CVD has not yet been formally disposed by the European Commission.
6. The EC has, in November 2003, initiated a partial interim review of the AD measures, which could possibly lead to a revocation of the provision for price undertaking. All the responses have been filed in time. Further developments are awaited.
7. In February 2004, the EC initiated an investigation into the possible circumvention of AD and CVD measures on the import of PET film originating in India, by import of PET film consigned from Brazil and Israel. In November 2004, the Commission made its final determination and anti-dumping measures on imports of PET film from India were extended to imports of PET film consigned from Brazil or Israel, whether declared as originating in Brazil or in Israel or not, with the exception of two companies in Brazil & Israel for which on-site verification was conducted.

8. On January 4, 2005 following a complaint filed by Dupont Teijin Films, Mitsubishi Polyester film & Nuroll SpA, the European Commission initiated a partial interim review of AD measures. The scope of this review has been limited to five Indian exporting producers including Polyplex from whom price undertaking were accepted by the Commission and to the level of residual duty.

The Company has filed all the responses in time & has also fully cooperated in the on-spot verification. Further developments are awaited.

9. The AD and CVD measures against the Company are limited to exports from India and are not applicable for exports by the Company's subsidiary in Thailand.

(b) U.S.A.

1. In June 2002, the US Department of Commerce (DOC) issued a notice in the Federal Register imposing final Anti-dumping and Countervailing Duties against import of PET film from India as follows:

- a) Countervailing Duties: Between 18.43% & 24.48%. The applicable rate for your Company was 18.66%.

In the Final determination of the first administrative review, the DOC had computed CVD rates of 20.62% for 2001 and 19.62% for 2002.

In August 2004, the DOC initiated Second Administrative review of the CVD order. Proceedings are currently underway.

- b) Anti-dumping (AD) duties: Between 0% & 5.68%. No anti-dumping duty has been levied on imports from your Company. The Petitioners had appealed to the Court of International Trade (CIT) against DOC's treatment of the subsidy margins in arriving at the AD duty and thereby the exclusion of the Company from the AD order. Subsequently the court twice remanded back the case to the DOC. In June 2004, CIT made its final decision in favor of the Petitioners and Polyplex was included in the AD order with 0% AD duties. Polyplex filed an appeal against the CIT decision to Court of Appeals of the Federal Circuit (CAFC) in August, 2004.

On May 12, 2005 final results were announced by the CAFC. The court affirmed the decision of CIT sustaining the inclusion of Polyplex within the scope of the Commerce AD duty order. The impact of the Order shall only be prospective in nature and not retroactive.

2. The impact of these duties, if any, is likely to be limited going forward on account of the following reasons:

- a) It is important to note that in the US as distinct from the E.U., the duties announced following the investigation only set the cash deposit rate with the actual duties being recomputed based on the actual level of dumping or availing of subsidies as established in subsequent annual reviews, and shortfall/excess would be collected/refunded with interest. With the gradual reduction and proposed phasing out of the Duty Entitlement Passbook

Scheme (DEPB), which forms the principal component of the alleged subsidies, the assessed level of subsidies would be henceforth substantially lower than the finding for the period of investigation.

- b) Past experience shows (in the Korean and Japanese PET film case in the US) that exporters implement effective monitoring mechanisms, which brings down the dumping/subsidy margins progressively and in a very substantial manner.
3. Following a petition filed by the domestic industry in the US in September 2003, the United States Trade Representative had initiated an investigation for removal of Preferential status to Thailand. The decision went in favour of the domestic industry and effective July 1, 2004 GSP benefit has been removed on the import of PET film from Thailand. Thus exports from Thailand to US are subject to a duty of 4.2% as against a nil rate earlier.
 4. These AD and CVD measures are not applicable for PTL.

8. EXPANSION PLAN

Consistent with its overall strategy of diversifying its manufacturing operations, last year your Company had decided to put up a new film line in Europe with a capacity of 24,000 TPA in Turkey. Work on Plant construction is at an advanced stage. The plant is expected to commence production in October 2005. The investment would be in the vicinity of US $ 50 million, inclusive of Metalliser, Co-generation Power plant & working capital.

With this location, your Company will have ready access to an existing large market in Western Europe where no new capacity is being built notwithstanding a continued growth in the market. This market also imports significant quantities. In addition, the unit would be in a position to access markets in Russia, CIS and Central and Eastern Europe, which though small currently, have a lot of potential given the stage of economic growth of these regions. Further, the countries around the Mediterranean rim are another possible destination for the output.

This project would be a key element in the plan to build a global footprint and associate with dominant customers in the converting and industrial segments. Savings in freight and duty and likely better pricing would offset the higher operating costs of a manufacturing set up in Turkey.

A decision has been taken to set up a chips plant in Turkey to meet captive requirements.

Based on our initial experience at the new location and market conditions, plans call for subsequent setting up of another line alongside the proposed unit so that there is a facility similar to that in Thailand.

9. OTHER PROJECTS

- (a) An offline coating project with an investment of approximately Rs. 16 crores (excluding working capital) is currently under implementation at the plant in India. The product is primarily aimed at exports and will help broaden the product portfolio. It is likely to be commissioned by the end of the ongoing financial year and will be financed by a mix of long-term loans and internal generations.
- (b) A metalliser is currently under commissioning in Thailand.

10. BUSINESS ALLOCATION

With a view to balancing the interests of the shareholders in the Thai subsidiary and the shareholders in India, the Company has adopted the following policies:

(a) Market Segmentation Policy

Main features affecting the allocation methodology of sales between PCL & PTL are as under:

- i. Product Range: Products which are not common can be sold by PCL or PTL anywhere.
- ii. Logistics: Proximities and quicker deliveries.
- iii. Landed Cost: Customers will be served based on lower delivered costs including Freight, duties etc.
- iv. Credit Limits of customers fixed by Export Credit Insurance companies in India & Thailand.
- v. Off-Grade material will be sold based on generation of such material at each plant in China/India.
- vi. Availability of material to fulfill customer requirement as an exception only.

Any major variation from the policy would be reported to the Boards of both PCL & PTL, who will review the adherence of this policy. Based on the same, PTL would be servicing North American, EU, South East Asia, Far-East, Australia/NZ, China and Pakistan. PCL would be servicing South Asia, Middle-East, Africa and CIS/Russia. After start up of the Turkey project, Europe, Africa, Middle East and CIS/Russia markets would be serviced by the new plant.

(b) Future Investment Policy

PCL will undertake investments in India/SAARC region only either directly or through its subsidiaries. All other investments will be done by PTL either directly or through its subsidiaries.

11. RISK MANAGEMENT

(a) Industrial cycles

The volatility in earnings resulting from the cyclical nature of the business is a concern. This stems from the fact that capacity additions tend to be bunched whereas the growth in demand is more even.

Your Company has sought to mitigate this risk through a number of actions and initiatives. Some of the steps are:

i) Your Company believes that it is one of the lowest cost producers of PET film in the world. It seeks to constantly strengthen this position. Measures to this end include:

- With no investments in fresh capacity, production at the plant at Khatima has increased from 12,398 MT in 1998-99 to 20,517 MT in the year under review, an increase of 65%. A further improvement in the current year is anticipated. Programs like TPM have been critical to this success.

Production in Thailand has shown consistent improvement.

- Important elements of the cost structure-apart from raw material cover packing, power and fuel and freight. Sustained efforts are underway to exercise control on these costs.
- With the commissioning of Chips plant in Thailand and the metalliser plant currently under implementation there, the incidence of fixed costs on a per unit basis is set to decline further.
- During the year Uninterrupted Power Supply (UPS) was installed at India plant with a capital outlay of Rs. 868 lacs. Installation of UPS would allow us to use more grid power from Uttaranchal Power Corporation Limited (UPCL) which is cheaper than self-generated power.

ii) Several initiatives are underway to broaden the product portfolio, including the development of metallized film and certain other value added films.

- iii) Manufacturing facilities in Thailand enable quick access to the fast growing Asia-Pacific region. There is a preferential duty treatment in some countries within the ASEAN region.
- iv) Accessing customers operating across countries in the flexible packaging and industrial segments by presenting alternative sourcing options from India, Thailand & Turkey and thereby mitigating their risks. This enables a more stable pricing regime.
- v) Deepening of the distribution reach is an important objective, which is sought to be accomplished by an appropriate mix of channel partnerships, direct presence and dealer representation and strengthening of the sales team.
- vi) Your Company has in the past built strong relationships with customers, which has helped it weather market conditions. It intends to forcefully extend this strategy to new customers.
- vii) Geographically diversified manufacturing should incorporate varying market conditions in different regions

(B) Product Concentration

Your Company operates only in one product line - i.e. Polyester films. This should be viewed in the context of the following factors:

- Polyester film has a range of applications and a decline in one segment can be offset by increase in another. Illustratively, while the magnetic media has been witnessing a decline, the overall demand continues to increase as applications such as packaging have exhibited a strong and sustained growth.

- Your Company has demonstrated its leadership in profitability in the industry.

(c) Financial Risk

(i) Foreign Exchange:

The Company's activities have a high export orientation. The loan portfolio in India is largely in Rupees & US dollar with interest rates linked to LIBOR. Since the Company has a net foreign exchange inflow, the risk is limited to a situation where the Rupee/Thai Baht appreciates in relation to the underlying foreign currency.

Cross currency risks are minimal.

For the Turkey project, currency wise inflows and outflows have been matched to minimize risk.

(ii) Interest rate risk:

Rupee loans in India are on a fixed rate basis. Most of these have been contracted recently and therefore reflect the current soft interest rate regime. US dollar denominated loans in India carry a LIBOR linked rate and therefore potentially higher outgoes are possible in the event there is an upward movement in LIBOR. Euro loans for PE are on floating rate basis linked to EURIBOR.

(iii) Leveraging:

With the successful placement of IPO, PTL has been able to repay its debts and is now a zero-debt company. The consolidated debt equity ratio is 0.08 : 1 at the end of 2004-05, down from 0.95: 1 at the end of 2003-04.

The following factors mitigate this risk:

- The cost of debt for the Company has come down significantly because of the investment grade rating of the company's debenture placement as well as the overall decline in the interest rate levels.

- The earnings in the current year will reduce gearing. However, this would be offset by further borrowings for the Turkey venture & other expansions.

(d) Project risk

As mentioned earlier, the Company is in the process of implementing a project to set up 24,000 TPA Film line, along with Metalliser and Co-generation power plant in Turkey. This is a relatively large investment in relation to its current size. The successful implementation of the two PET film lines outside India has demonstrated its project execution skills. The fact that firm financing arrangements are in place and most of the Project cost and delivery schedules are firm mitigate this perceived risk sufficiently.

(e) Country risk

The capacity in Thailand is now twice that of India and therefore fortunes for the parent company in India are intricately interwoven with the success of the operations in Thailand. Based on your Company's experience so far, as well as, that of a whole spectrum of foreign owned businesses present in Thailand for a long time suggests that the risks are not significant.

With exposure now being spread to two countries, the overall Country risk for the Company stands reduced.

This risk will be further diluted post the expansion in Turkey.

(f) Trade defense measures

As mentioned elsewhere in the discussion, international trade in PET film has been the subject of several anti-dumping and countervailing duty investigations and actions. The high export orientation of the industry makes this an important business risk. An understanding of these measures resulting from the past investigation against exports of PET film from India and a geographical well-diversified sales portfolio will help mitigate the adverse fall-out of such an action.

12. FUTURE OUTLOOK

Your Company remains optimistic on the anticipated financial performance in the current year. Looking further ahead, if all or substantially all of the announced capacity additions come on-stream there would be an oversupply situation. This is consistent with our past experience. However, the continued growth of demand should bring the demand-supply balance in equilibrium over time. As explained elsewhere, moderating the influence of cyclical nature of the industry is an important challenge. The Company is constantly striving to position itself in a manner that while following broad industry trends, it is able to consistently deliver better performance than its competitors. The expansion in Thailand and Turkey are consistent with this strategy.

13. CAUTIONARY STATEMENT

Investors are cautioned that the discussion contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. The Company undertakes no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of a new information, future events, or otherwise. Actual results, performances or achievements could differ materially from those expressed or implied in such forward-looking statements.
